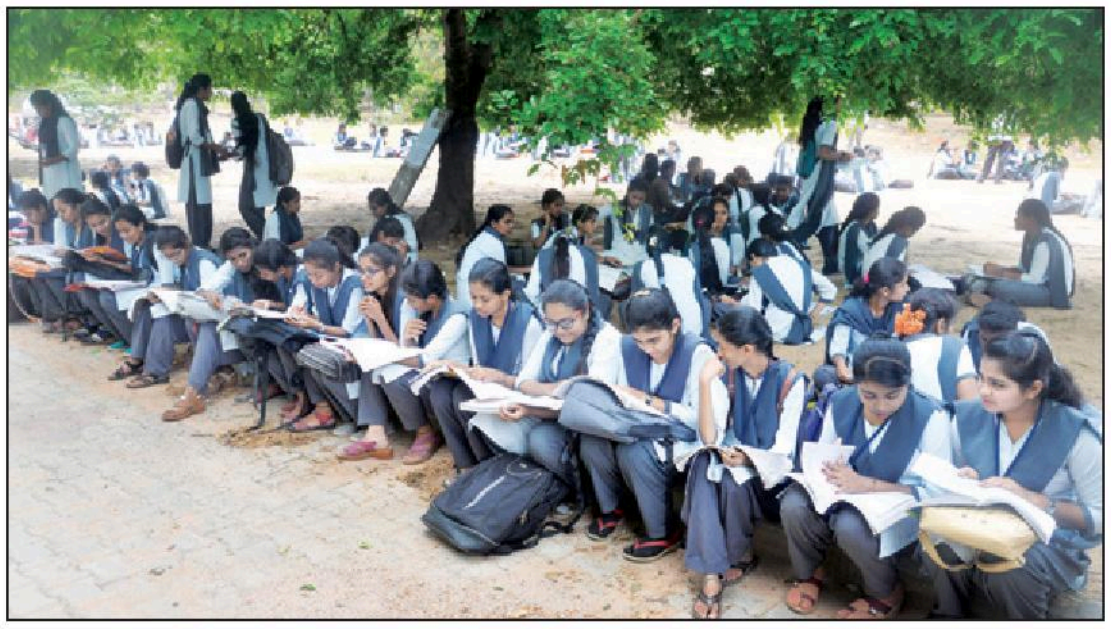
II PUC: 35,004 students write exam in district



Mysuru, Mar. 4 (MTY&SD)- The Second PUC examinations began this morning amidst unprecedented security measures by the Pre-University Education Department.

In Mysuru District, a total of 35,004 students (17,266 boys and 17,738 girls including 81 specially-abled students) wrote the exam at 26 centres. A total of 9,792 students from Arts stream, 11,650 from Science stream and 13,562 from Commerce stream have registered for the exam.

Today, exams were held for History, Physics and Basic Maths while tomorrow will be Tamil, Telugu, Malayalam, Marathi, Arabic and French. The exams will end on Mar. 23 (English).

Vehicles carrying question papers left the District Treasury to reach the centres at 10 am as exams started at 10.15 am. The exam will be held from 10.15 am to 1.30 pm. The authorities had notified six routes in city for on-time delivery of question papers.

The District Administration has formed 10 teams (six teams for six taluks and four teams for Mysuru city) each comprising Tahsildars, Education Officers and Principals to distribute question papers. Each team has also been provided with gunmen to ensure the question papers reach safely.

The Department of Pre-University Education has taken all measures for smooth conduct of the exam, leaving no scope for any malpractices. CCTV cameras have been installed in all exam halls. Students as well as Invigilators are barred from carrying cell phones to the exam centres. Photocopy and stationery shops in the vicinity of the exam centres have been ordered to close down.

In view of the exams, the City Police have imposed prohibitory orders under Section 144 within 200 mts. radius of exam centres. The prohibitory orders will be in place from 6 am to 6 pm on all the days of the exams.

Students offer pujas

Panchamukhi Ganapathi Temple on Sayyaji Rao Road in city conducted special pujas for students this morning. A large number of parents accompanying the students visited temples.

Members of Arivu organisation and Prajnavantha Nagarika Vedike distributed roses to students at Agrahara Circle and Sadvidya College this morning and wished them good luck.

Mayor launches online Building Plan approval system

Visit www.mrc.gov.in for online approvals

Mysuru, Mar. 4 (RK&BCT)- From today, all building approval plans will be online and the process of physical verification, manual plan approval application, payment of fees will be a thing of the past. The new hassle-free online Land and Building Plan Approval System (LBPAS) for building plan sanction and land use change where people can get online building plan approval, online layout approval and online change of land use approval was launched by Mayor Tasneem at Mysuru City Corporation this morning.

The launch happened with a click of a button and from now, all plan approvals – for residential, commercial and layouts – has turned online. The LBPAS hopes to bring greater transparency, end corruption, eliminate red tape and save people's time and money. The initiative, apart from putting an end to people running from pillar to post to get approvals, will also remove middlemen from the system. Online approvals for buildings will be granted within 30 days.

Application process: The software "Nirman 2" requires online application where there is no system of physical application to the MCC architects, engineers and planners. Applicants will have to visit www.mrc.gov.in and click Karnataka Municipal Data Society, Citizen Online Services and proceed to Nirman-2 LBPAS (Citizen Portal). Applicants can also reach 164.164.10.21/LBPAS portal.

Public power for private benefit

The phenomenon of corruption, associated with elected representatives of people to various bodies vested with the responsibilities that go with governing the country and also the functionaries in the Government in its hierarchy from bottom to top, not to forget the honourable judicial officers, has been debated, discussed, dissected, written about and finally taken for granted as universal, has just been bestowed a rather simplified definition. As part of determining the Corruption Perception Index (CPI) for different countries across the world and ranking them in descending order (that is, least corrupt countries being ranked low), the global civil society non-governmental organisation based in Berlin, leading the fight against corruption, Transparency International, founded in 1993, has defined corruption as the misuse of public power for private benefit. The terms public and private in this definition don't need to be made more explicit even to the land's unlettered people at large, given the common knowledge of those who command unlawfully amassed wealth while holding high posts in the democracy.

The global agency pursuing the scale of corruption in the countries covered in the study has revealed that Scandinavian countries are among the least corrupt nations of the world, with Sweden ranked number four. Scams committed by the well-marked players in the circles of the corrupt Indians, as reported in the media, don't seem to shock the citizens any longer.

The privileges that the country's politicos are enjoying, unabashedly granted by themselves are the envy of the same masses who have elected the representatives, masquerading as champions of the country's poor millions. The gamut of privileges, including life in bungalows, moving about in high-end cars, hefty salaries as well as allowances, all services gratis, cuts in the money spent on projects and so on, in monetary terms, counted in hundreds of crores can give heartburn to the strongest. Investigations into the few scams at snail's pace being a mockery, have only made people feeling numb about corruption and prefer to look the other way. Some have taken the stand that the bribe, given willingly by citizens and accepted gleefully acting as the lubricant to the rusted bureaucratic machinery has its dubious positive aspect that things get done in quick time!

Public speakers who take fascination to glorify India's rich legacy of culture comprising literature, music, art and heritage structures hesitate and even feel shy to raise the issue of public power being extensively used for private benefits. Cancer is said to be cured if diagnosed early, but the national cancer of corruption is having its heyday.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

I used to think that love gets diminished when you start loving more people — that we have only a limited amount of the emotion, which we should be very careful in dispensing. Often, I wondered about women who had multiple children and how little love each child must be getting. I know for sure that love expands to include more. The more you love, the bigger your heart's capacity for the emotion becomes. Love is not quantifiable and therefore not finite. If you love another, it has no impact on your love for the first. If love is not cherished and nurtured, it can indeed be lost. — Vinita Dawra Nangia in The Times of India

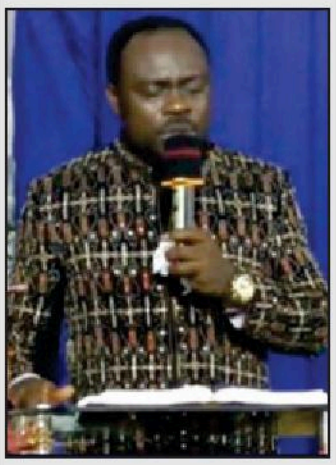
Man sending angry letters to newspaper since 1978

Liverpool: A man has been penning letters complaining about various things and sending them to the Liverpool Echo newspaper everyday for the last 42 years.

70-year-old Bernie Carroll from Liverpool can't even remember what he complained to the local council about in his very first letter, back in 1978. That's unsurprising, considering that it was the first of over 15,000 letters he sent over the years.

It first started as a way to vent about the actions of the "militant council of the 1970s and 80s" in Liverpool, but once that was over with, he continued sending in letters complaining or offering suggestions about pretty much anything. For example, his most recent letters to the Liverpool Echo newspaper were about his frustrations at the constant fireworks in his neighborhood and dog poo bags being left on park railings.

Nigerian Pastor to travel to China to destroy coronavirus



Lagos: As medical professional are apparently taking too long to find a cure to the highly contagious Covid-19 virus, a Nigerian Pastor has decided to take matter into his own hands.

Pastor David Elijah of the Glorious Mount of Possibility Church in Lagos recently got a lot of attention on African social media, after a short clip of him preaching to his congregation and promising to travel to China and "prophetically destroy" the new type of coronavirus went viral. In the video, Elijah can be heard saying that he is going to Wuhan "to deal with the coronavirus" that has killed so many people and affected the business and travel plans of millions around the world.

What causes my stomach to growl?

Gurgling noises can originate from the intestines as well as from the stomach. The noise is louder when the stomach is empty because there is no food to muffle the sound. The rumbling is caused by the muscles of the digestive tract flexing to squeeze their contents along.

Rectify drawbacks of offending bridges

Sir,

Being an engineer myself, it gives me no pleasure to comment on the work of my fellow engineers in Mysuru City Corporation. But as I go on walk everyday, I cannot close my eyes to the sorry state of neglect of maintenance of twin bridges at the junction of Vishwamanava road and Bogadi road.

The above pictures of the bridges indicate that footpaths on both the bridges are encroached by allowing the cables and pipes to pass at the edges of footpaths by reducing the width for pedestrian walking, defeating the purpose of footpaths.

Moreover, the cables and pipes are surrounded by concrete which are wavy and ugly. Due to lack of maintenance the surface of footpaths are heavily worn out. Besides, they block the flow of rainwater which is not only dangerous for commuters but also compromising the life of the bridge itself.

The ideal approach is to ask the offending organisations to dismantle and take them outside the railings and fix accountability. As all works conveniently suffer from fait accompli syndrome, probably the encroachment will never be removed. The best one can expect is get the ugly concrete housing on both sides are rectified by the offending parties at their cost to look presentable and clear the way for drainage of water.

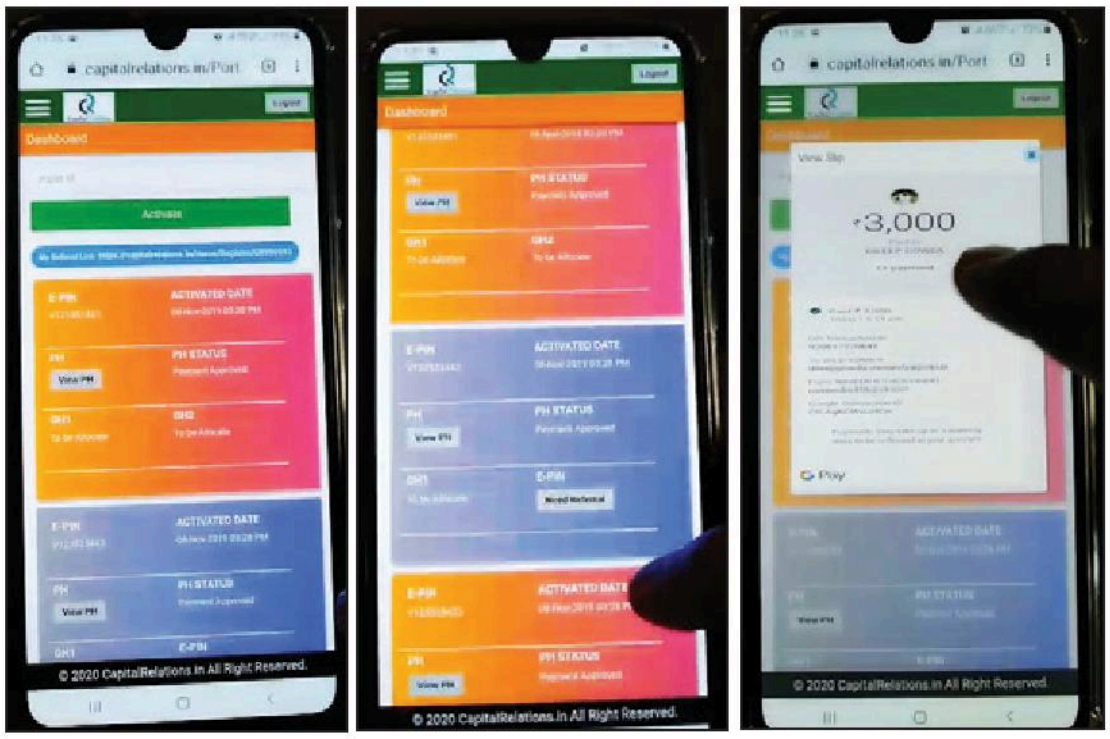
Chain-link finance fraud busted; three arrested

- Investors deposited Rs. 3,000 and referred more and more people
- Statewide, the accused managed to pocket Rs. 15 crore to Rs. 20 crore

SP Dr. Suman D. Pennekar



The app developed by fraudsters to lure and con gullible people.

Madikeri, Mar. 4 (PS&BCT)- The Kodagu Police have busted an online scam — a chain-link networking fraud — and have arrested three people, all residents of Kushalnagar. A search is on to trace four other accused.

Kodagu SP Dr. Suman D. Pennekar said that the fraudsters, operating the website capitalrelations.in from Bengaluru and Kushalnagar, had duped many people across the State to the tune of crores of rupees.

The arrested are 45-year-old A. John, a real estate businessman and a resident of 3rd Block Tyagaraja Colony of Kushalnagar, 37-year-old Shashikanth, Sales executive at BSM Motors and a resident of Shivarama Karanth Extension, Kushalnagar and 39-year-old Antony D'Cunha, Manager at Dewan Housing Finance and a resident of Basaveshwara Extension in Kushalnagar. Four others are absconding.

The seven people from Kushalnagar, who were hired by the website operators, lured several residents of Kodagu to invest. Accordingly, the investors were made to sign up, after which they were given a login ID and e-pin (password). After the investor transfers Rs. 3,000 to the bank account given on the website, his/ her money was expected to be doubled in a week's time.

Luring people through websites

The website capitalrelations.in claims to "create business opportunity by providing lasting self employment opportunities."

The website states: "If you help 1 person by making payment of 3K you are eligible to get help of 2 people. The eligibility is on the below criteria. You have to provide help and that provide help has to be approved by the person who has received the help. For you to receive help you should refer 1 person to provide help and the referred person has to get approval from the person who has received help, then you will be eligible to get help. The system is completely automated; there is no manual interference in the system. Provide help can be done in 24 hours. If the provide help person does not pay, then the receiver therefore can reject after 24 hours and can expect provide help again."

Accused was the admin

"Shashikanth, the accused, was the website administrator and those who wanted to make an investment had to contact him and obtain user ID, password and three e-pins. An amount of Rs. 1,000 was fixed for a single e-pin and for three e-pins, one person had to pay Rs. 3,000. The amount would go to the accounts of the accused. A separate user login was provided for the invested. The money was transferred using Google Pay, Phone Pay and Net Banking," the SP said.

Chain-link system

"The investors were told that after seven days, the amount will get doubled and will be credited to the investors. A few people, who had invested in the website in the initial days, had received the money (double the invested amount) through the chain-link system. This prompted them to refer more and more people, friends and relatives. As the money chain grew, the accused managed to pocket crores of rupees but a lot of investors were cheated, the SP said and added that the transaction was totally illegal," she added.

Many investors, having fallen prey to the bait, are said to have invested (transferred) lakhs of rupees from their bank accounts. The SP said that transactions to the tune of Rs. 15 crore to Rs. 20 crore have been made through the website. Investigations revealed that staying in Kushalnagar, the accused managed to spread their net across the State and more than three to four thousand people had logged in to the website or downloaded the app and had invested money.

DCIB probe

The website was developed by a Bengaluru-based company in September 2019. "As more and more investors pooled in their money, the accused and the website admin used to login to the website with different names and pocket the money," Dr. Suman said. Following complaints from the residents of Kodagu, the District Crime Investigation Bureau (DCIB) conducted an investigation and arrested three of the seven accused.

The website also claims to be following Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) guidelines. Urging people not to fall prey to such sites, the SP has requested them to file complaints against those doing suspicious transactions.

Kodagu Police have also asked people to be wary of fraudulent websites like helpingplanet.in, kinghelping.in, justmoney.in, crowdfunding.in, caringclub.in and infiniteclub.in

Music teacher sentenced to five years jail under POCSO Act

Mysuru, Mar. 4 (MK&KS)- The City's Special POCSO (Protection of Children from Sexual Offences) Court has sentenced a music teacher to five years imprisonment besides imposing a fine of Rs. 10,000, after he was found guilty of sexually harassing girl students.

The sentenced music teacher is Siddaraju, who was working as a music teacher at the Government School in N.R. Mohalla.

As Siddaraju was sexually harassing the girl students at classes and in the School premises, the School Head Master had lodged a complaint at Mandi Police Station.

Based on the complaint, Mandi Police, who had registered a case, had collected the statements of the girl students and had submitted a charge-sheet to the Court.

Judge B.S. Jayashree, who heard arguments from both sides, found Siddaraju guilty of committing the crime and sentenced him to jail. Public Prosecutor B.C. Shivarudraswamy argued on behalf of the Government.

Illegal electric fence claims Tusker's life

Hanur, Mar. 4 (KS)- A wild tusker was electrocuted after it came in contact with an illegal fence to which power was drawn illegally to protect the crops.

The incident took place on World Wildlife Day yesterday at B.M. Halli in Hanur taluk. Chikkamallaiah of the village had erected a fence around his agricultural field and had illegally drawn power to it to protect his crops.

A wild tusker, aged about 25 years, which had come out of the forests in search of food and water, came near the field and was plucking maize when the fence got tangled around its trunk and leg, thus electrocuting it on the spot.

As soon as the news about the tusker being electrocuted spread, Chikkamallaiah has gone absconding.

Cauvery Wildlife Zone Assistant Conservator of Forests (ACF) Ankaraju, Range Forest Officer (RFO) Rajashekharappa, Hanur Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) Yedukondalu, Buffer Range Sub-Division Forest Officer Salan, Hanur Circle Inspector Ravinayak, Sub-Inspector (SI) Nagesh and Assistant Sub-Inspector (ASI) Urs visited the spot.

Coorg Wildlife Society Hon. Treasurer resigns

Madikeri, Mar. 4- Coorg Wildlife Society (CWS) Hon. Treasurer C.S. Poovaiah, has tendered his resignation from the post over violations of the Society bylaws by certain individuals in CWS.

In his letter to the President of CWS dated Feb. 18, 2020, Poovaiah has stated, "It is with anguish and a heavy heart I am writing this letter to you. As per the bylaw, the Secretary is responsible for administration and approving the bills of CWS and hence prudently has not authorised him to sign cheques on behalf of CWS to avoid conflict of interest. The bylaw authorises only the President or the Executive Vice-President and Hon. Treasurer to sign cheques (the signature of the Treasurer is mandatory) to prevent any financial fraud."

Continuing, he has stated that the malafide approval given at the AGM to pay Rs. 90,000 to Col. C.P. Muthanna, former CWS President, towards his lawyer's fees for his personal Public Interest Litigation (PIL) filed in the High Court much against the written disapproval of such payments by the auditors shows favouritism and cronyism.

Poovaiah said that the urgency in which the cheque for Rs. 90,000 was given to Col. Muthanna within a few hours after the AGM, without preparing the minutes of the AGM and without consulting the Treasurer and without obtaining the signature of the Treasurer, is a gross violation of all financial norms and the bylaws of CWS.

Pointing out that his complaint was treated very casually, Poovaiah has stated that CWS is being run as per the whims and fancies of a few individuals in CWS.

In this week's Pet Talk, Maneka speaks about most common diseases in chickens and more

Pet Talk

Maneka Gandhi

How much food and water do chickens need?

A chicken, on an average basis, needs about 5 litres of water with half a cup of feed daily.

Do chickens make a family?

For chickens, family is very vital. Generally, a flock includes 12-15 birds. They have very firm rules for all members and they may make you a part of the family too.

What are the most common diseases in chickens?

Common Diseases of Backyard Poultry:

External Parasite like lice, fleas, mites, bedbugs.

Internal Parasites. Backyard poultry also carry a wide range of internal parasites like worms and protozoa.

Marek's Disease. Marek's disease is a viral respiratory infection.

Leucosis. It is a leukemic disease in chickens.

Fowl Pox. A viral disease in hens with coetaneous lesions on the featherless skin and / or diphtheritic lesions of mucous coats of the upper alimentary and respiratory tract.

Nutritional Deficiencies. May include growth retardation, drowsiness, weakness, in coordination, emaciation, and ruffled feathers.

Do chickens need Vaccines?

Yes. Marek's disease (respiratory problems) is present in almost every flock. Hence vaccination of chickens is strongly recommended.

How to control the temperature to keep a chick?

Chicks generally need to be kept warm but should also have a habitat that has a range of temperatures. Use a lamp to heat one side of the habitat while keeping the other side cooler. This allows your chick to freely decide at which temperature she feels more comfortable throughout the day.

Construct a heat source using a 100watt light bulb in a reflective clamp style lamp or an infrared reptile heat bulb. Install either option on one side of the habitat. You can get both lamps at most pet and home stores.

Make sure the temperature is a constant 32-38 degrees C for the first few weeks of the chick's life.

Your chick is the best thermometer for her habitat: if she is hiding on the opposite corner of the habitat from the lamp, then it is too hot. If she is smothering herself in the blankets, or along with other chicks, then you need to increase the heat.

Consider keeping your chick's habitat away from radiators, or non-lamp heating devices, to help maintain a warm and consistent temperature. You may also want to keep it away from drafty areas.

Do chickens need a babysitter?

It is vital for your chicken's health to have someone check in on them every day. Asking a trusted friend or family member, which the chicken recognizes, to either stay at your home to care for your chicken or check in on her and refill food and water every day.

One of my chickens has a bald area on her bottom about the size of an egg and the area is red. What should I do?

Check to see if the chicken is egg bound. Egg bound means when a hen is unable to expel its eggs through the reproductive tract. Egg bound is fatal in chickens and can kill your chicken if not treated.

What are the symptoms of an egg bound chicken?

Symptoms may include loss of appetite, weakness, depression, fluffed up and drowsy, yolk coloured droppings, swollen abdomen. Other problems with the ovaries and oviduct can also cause problems which look similar to being egg bound.

How to treat Egg bound in chickens?

The easiest thing to do is to carefully bring the hen into the house and soak her in a plastic tub in your bathtub.

Submerge her lower body and vent in warm water with some Epsom salts for about 20 minutes, gently rubbing her abdomen.

Remove her gently from the bath and towel dry her, blotting her feathers carefully. If it's winter, or there's any draft, dry her off with a hair dryer set on low heat.

Then rub some vegetable oil around her vent and very gently massage her abdomen once more. Put her in a quiet, dark location in a large crate or cage.

A dog crate or bird cage with a towel or blanket draped over it, a towel that has been warmed in the dryer on the bottom, and set over a pan of hot water (or with a heating pad under the towel) with a heat lamp is perfect.

If you can see the egg, you can try to carefully extract the contents of the egg using a syringe and then gently crush the shell, keeping the fragments attached to the membrane and remove it using vegetable oil squirted in and around the vent.

This is risky and carries with it the danger of your hen contracting an infection, so it should ONLY be used after all other remedies have been tried.

Do chickens need to be in the shade or sun all day?

Chicken need a mixture of shade and sunlight. Keep them in their coop when necessary, and let them roam in the sun or warm weather. If it's shady everywhere, let them out a couple times a day, or set up some heat systems in your garden, as chickens need to maintain a body temperature.

Why has my chicken not laid an egg?

If your chicken is moulting, they definitely won't be laying eggs. Moulting means shedding or falling of hair or skin to make way for new growth. The reason chickens don't lay during a moult is because they don't have enough protein.

Do chickens get sad?

Chickens DO get sad. Most people think they are just bred to be farmed, lay eggs, and then killed. But they are animals so you shouldn't forget that. No one owns chickens or other animals. They are not things, they are individuals. However, if you have chickens living with you, you would know to leave their eggs alone. In fact, why not turn your land into a sanctuary for farm animals ?

How do I keep my chickens free of parasites?

These are some of the many ways to keep chickens clean and free from parasites:

1. Giving them a dust bath.
2. Adding herbs in the dust bath.
3. Adding garlic to their diets.
4. Keeping the chicken coop dry.
5. Constantly keeping a check on their health.

How do you treat liver flukes in cattle?

Liver fluke is a leaf-shaped parasite which lives in the liver and bile ducts of infected cattle. Affected cattle experience the following: Weight loss, Poor milk production, Bottle jaw, Anaemia and chronic diarrhoea.

Treatment: Triclabendazole is effective at killing all stages of triclabendazole-susceptible flukes from two weeks old. Nitroxynil is licensed for the treatment of fascioliasis (infestations of mature and immature liver-fluke more than 8 weeks after infection). Clorsulon is only effective against adult flukes.

How do I protect my cows in the winter?

Deliver more cattle feed.

Put up windbreaks.

Ensure that plenty of clean, dry and soft bedding, like sand or straw, is provided around-the-clock to help keep cows comfortable and warm. You can even make coats for them.

Provide cattle minerals and supplements.

Keep a clean environment.

In the case of temperature dropping below 30°F it is recommended that the young calf diet should be supplemented with more hay, silage, grain or a protein supplement and mineral mix. The energy thus gained helps the calf to tackle a temperature drop.

What is a Normal Cow's Pulse?

If you have a stethoscope, you can listen for the cow's heartbeat. You can feel for an artery under the cow's tail, or you can feel the artery in the cow's neck, near her jaw. A large artery runs around the base of the jawbone. A cow's nominal heart should beat between 40 to 70 times every minute.

Are cows fearful of humans? If yes, how can that fear be reduced?

Many cattle have a natural fear of humans. They see their own species being hurt all the time and, like all beings, they remember. If you mistreat a cow, you will cultivate fear in her.

Mistreatment can be in the form of teasing or unnecessary roughness. Fearful cattle can be just flighty, or they can turn extremely mean. If you abuse your cattle, or allow others to mistreat them, they will be fearful. Don't allow anyone to tease the cattle. Don't allow people, who are unnecessarily aggressive with cows, to help you with them. Cattle should be handled quietly and with a minimum of excitement. Yelling, repeated slapping or hitting, and general chaos only stirs up stress hormones in cattle and makes them more fearful and difficult to handle.

When are cows most active?

Cows are diurnal animals, so they are most active during the day.

Don't heed to rumours, says Govt. amid COVID-19 scare

284 people under home isolation, observation across State for symptoms

Bengaluru, Mar. 4 (KMS&BCT)- Seeking to allay fear among the citizens in the wake of Coronavirus scare, Karnataka Health Minister B. Sriramulu and Medical Education Minister Dr. K. Sudhakar have made an appeal to the people not to pay heed to rumours spreading on social media.

Addressing media in Bengaluru yesterday, Sriramulu assured people that the Government has taken adequate measures to ensure that the disease does not spread further. "Don't lend your ears to rumours about the Coronavirus in the social media. Rely only on the authentic information," he said.

The Minister's words came as Bengaluru reported the first case, after a techie from the city with a travel history to Dubai and interaction with Hong Kong-based people there, was admitted to a hospital in Hyderabad.

Minister under fire

Sriramulu, who is busy with his daughter's extravagant seven-day wedding this week, convened an emergency meeting of top officials of the Health Department yesterday to discuss the next steps in Bengaluru. The Minister was under fire for focusing only on his daughter's wedding and ignoring the impending danger of the spread of the deadly virus.

As panic gripped the city, Sriramulu said the apartment where the software engineer was staying has been sanitised. Besides, his 25 colleagues have been identified. One of them has been admitted to the hospital as a precautionary measure and his blood sample has been sent for lab test.

40,207 people screened

"So far 40,207 people have been screened at Kempegowda International Airport. 251 blood tests have been done, of which 238 were found negative, while the rest of the reports are yet to come," Sriramulu said. The Health Department said three people have been admitted to the isolation ward at the Rajiv Gandhi Institute of Chest Diseases.

"We have started to track all those who have come in contact with the 24-year-old engineer who was confirmed a COVID-19 carrier in Hyderabad. A medical team is monitoring the health condition of all those who came in contact with the coronavirus patient. It has come to our knowledge that the coronavirus-hit person in Hyderabad had gone from Bengaluru. Therefore, all the members in the house where he had stayed here have been identified and are under watch," he said.

According to Telangana State Health Minister Etela Rajendra, the software engineer returned to Bengaluru on Feb. 20 and attended work for a couple of days, before leaving for Hyderabad on Feb. 22. He took treatment for cough and cold form a private hospital but shifted to the government-run Gandhi Hospital, where he tested positive for Coronavirus.

Sriramulu said that the Government is fully equipped to handle suspected cases and that he is personally monitoring the situation, despite being very busy with his daughter's wedding. "We have formed 1,680 isolation wards in private hospitals. Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa has apprised Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Health Minister of the situation."

Five Karnataka districts bordering Kerala — Dakshina Kannada, Kodagu, Udupi, Chamarajanagar and Mysuru — continue to be under surveillance after three positive cases were reported in Kerala. Currently, Karnataka Health and Family Welfare Services department is observing 284 people under home isolation across the State for coronavirus symptoms.

School students, staff with cold, fever, to be given leave

The Karnataka Government has directed School authorities to grant leave to students and staff suffering from cold or fever in the light of renewed coronavirus (COVID -19) fears.

"If any student, teacher of staff is suffering from respiratory infections, they should be granted leave. They should be allowed to come back to School only after confirming from the doctor that they are cured. In case of a student or staff staying at hostels develop any symptoms, they should be kept in a separate room," said the Government circular.

Awareness gone awry? They wore masks but removed it soon after

Mayor Tasneem, Deputy Mayor C. Sridhar and Leader of Opposition in the MCC Council M.U. Subbaiah and others walk with masks at MCC this morning. Picture right shows the Mayor and her Deputy without masks.

Mysuru, Mar. 4 (RK&BCT)- The good intention of the heads of Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) to create awareness on the precautions to be taken to arrest Novel Coronavirus spread went awry this morning.

During the launch of online building plan approval, Mayor Tasneem, Deputy Mayor C. Sridhar and Leader of Opposition in the MCC Council M.U. Subbaiah and other officials wore masks as they walked out from their chambers to the meeting hall. They sported bright yellow masks and even attended a short meeting before the actual launch.

However, seeing the city's First Citizen, Deputy Mayor and others in masks, media personnel advised them to remove the masks as it would spread panic among people in the city who are already worried about the virus scare. Press persons asked the Mayor to remove the masks as so far, not a single case of COVID-19 has been detected in Mysuru.

Taken aback by the sudden questioning by the media group, the Mayor initially fumbled for words but later said that they were just creating awareness about the virus spread and by wearing masks, they were asking people to be more aware about preventive measures.

However, moments later, the Mayor and others removed the masks and got on to launch the online plan approval system.

Free masks to foreign tourists at Palace

Policemen deployed at the Mysore Palace this morning enquire foreigners if they have any symptoms of running nose, fever or cold.

Mysuru, Mar. 4- Following COVID-19 scare, the Mysore Palace Board has decided to give free masks to foreign tourists and to visitors on request. The Board has also decided to open a healthcare centre to help tourists complaining of fever or any other illness to undergo free check-up.

Over 8,000 tourists including 100-150 foreigners visit the Palace daily and the Board is not taking any chances.

Tourists complaining of fever, cold or running nose may avail the mask and also the primary healthcare. "If the condition is serious, the patients will be sent to K.R. Hospital where Isolation Wards have been set up.

The Palace Board has set up signboards giving tips on how COVID spreads and its vulnerability. Palace Board Deputy Director T.S. Subramanya said, besides providing face masks, Board officials will also educate tourists on DOs and DON'Ts.

The Indian Turf Invitation Cup-2020

Mission accomplished !

Dr. N. Nithyanand Rao

K.G. Anantharaj Urs

Chaduranga Kantharaj Urs

Raian Irani

F.K. Irani

On Sunday, 1st March of 2020, Mysore Race Club (MRC) Limited conducted the prestigious The Indian Turf Invitation Cup-2020 for the first time and created history in its over 100 years of racing in city. First under royal patronage and later, after independence of the country, under the initiative of local lovers of 'horse flesh', with lot of horse-sense!

Rightly they were remembered and inducted into the "Hall of Fame" posthumously at a function held the previous evening at the MRC Club House. They are Mr. S.V. Subramaniam, Mr. Farrokh K. Irani and Sardar K.B. Ramachandra Raje Urs. Of these three, except Mr. Subramaniam, the other two I personally knew rather well. As Mr. Farrokh Irani's name was announced and later his son Mr. Raian Irani spoke about his father, I remembered an incident when Mr. F.K. Irani quit as Chairman of MRC after being in that office continuously for 13 long years. Reporting the news in Star of Mysore as its lead, I gave the banner headline, "King abdicates" across the tabloid. That evening I got a telephone call from Farrokh appreciating the coverage but more about the headline. 'How do you know my middle name is King?' he asked. That was news for me. How can an Iranian name have an english word! Both did not pursue the subject further and he put the phone down with his expected last words — "I am in Sports Club, come and join me for a drink." That indeed was Farrokh the King. Let it be.

It was very thoughtful of the MRC Managing Committee headed by its Chairman Dr. N. Nithyanand Rao, to have decided to award and honour five leading performers on the Indian Turf during the year 2018-19, chosen Oscar-style "...and the winner is...!" As for other five who were honoured for their long-association and service to MRC, there were two from our city — Mr. C. Seshachalam and K.G. Anantharaj Urs. Ananth has been the Secretary of MRC for decades, then Secretary General of Turf Authorities of India and now Chief Stipendiary Steward of MRC.

He is the one who knows the nitty-gritty of racing and its multiple aspects and specialisation — specially Racing Administration. His networking among the racing fraternity all over the world is incredible. I had personal experiences of this hidden quality of Anantharaj Urs when he took me to the Tokyo Race Course while we were there on a Rotary Club tour. The joke is, many Chairmen and Committee Members would find themselves at large without Ananth's guiding hand or words to steer through their responsibilities.

Another history too was created at the Turf Invitation Cup Race on 1st March 2020 at MRC. That was when Adjudicate won the Invitation Cup with Jockey Y.S. Srinath astride for the second time successively. Apart from winning, it also created history by being the only horse above the classic age (more than 3 years old) to win the Invitation Cup. Well, Adjudicate richly deserved the kiss that was planted on its muzzle by its owner Amitabh Nanda which we saw in newspapers. So Adjudicate created a second history for itself on that day.

A third history also would have been created for the MRC a month before the Turf Invitation Cup races by getting the land lease renewed for 30 years but sadly it was not to be.

I am referring to the Extraordinary General Body Meeting (EGM) of the MRC held on Friday, 14th February, 2020, to seek permission to increase the number of members from the present 250 to 300 by bringing in 50 members without the set procedure of election but by nomination. The Government of Karnataka was willing to renew the lease of MRC land, which is under a short-leash now, for another 30 long years. The whole hell broke loose in that meeting. Paradoxically, among those who spoke against the proposal are some members who had earlier in May 2019, when G. Venkatesh was Chairman, in an effort at renewing the lease (not for 30 years as under the present Managing Committee headed by Dr. N. Nithyanand Rao, but for a mere 10 years) had in a preposterous offer agreed to take 250 new members under categories unimaginable and suicidal for the MRC — in five categories where there will be no selection process only for the 50 Government nominees. Thank God the EGM threw out this proposal.

In comparison, the proposals brought before the EGM held on 14th February, 2020 was, though not fool-proof or perfect, could have been accepted with some changes and amendments considering the lease offer was for 30-long years and the intake of new members is only 50 to be shared with the Government.

And if only one read the Government order (in Kannada), it was clear that the final Draft Agreement was to be okayed by the Government. Here we could have considered incorporating the suggestions made by Chaduranga Kantharaj Urs, G.K. Balakrishna and others, including the issue related to JWGC (Jayachamaraja Wadiyar Golf Club). I am sure, MRC could further negotiate with the present BJP Government, which is more reasonable and positive in its response to the terms and conditions of the lease agreement than the earlier Congress and JD(S) governments.

US President Kennedy had famously once said, 'You get in life what you negotiate for and do not procrastinate taking a decision, for you may lose all.'

At present MRC's lease is lapsed and it is on 'ventilator' as one speaker said in EGM. So, how then the racing, both off-course and on-course, are going on? Well, once in three months, like one speaker said in the EGM, MRC official goes to the Government official, waits on him like an accused in the Police Station, to get the licence to run the race after paying a small licence fee.

As we know, we are living in an uncertain period of governance with different Governments with their own agenda. There are some MLAs and Ministers who want the present land of MRC to be taken over, ostensibly, for extending the adjacent Zoo or for a Botanical Garden. Whatever it is, this land being the Government land can be taken back. However, if the lease is for 30 years it is a comfortable period and cannot be taken back except when the terms and conditions of the lease is violated and there is also a legal cover of Law Courts to ward off Government's arbitrariness.

Therefore, wisdom lies in calling one more EGM, as suggested earlier by a senior member, Chaduranga Kantharaj Urs, and take the draft lease deed agreement, as per Government's order, with amendments or deletions as suggested by some members in the last EGM held on 14.2.2020.

Be that as it may, there is no denying the fact that Dr. Nithyanand Rao has created a third history, in addition to what I mentioned earlier, for himself by successfully conducting the Indian Turf Invitation Cup 2020. This, despite challenges of providing new infrastructure at heavy cost and getting full cooperation from all the members of the Turf Authorities of India and specially from his own team of Committee Members and Stewards under trying circumstances. As insiders know, Dr. Nithyanand Rao came to occupy the Chair under tough competition, some reneging on their words of honour while some casting doubt on his ability to conduct the Turf Invitation Cup 2020. All these apprehensions were belied and Dr. Nithyanand Rao has accomplished his Mission 2020 in a grand, enviable manner. Congratulations Chairman, MRC, Dr. Nithyanand Rao, MD, Ortho.

Cleaning of stagnant sewage water begins at Kukkarahalli Lake

UoM submits Rs. 2 crore proposal for a permanent solution

Mysuru, Mar. 4 (MTY&KS)- Following the publication of the news item titled 'Sewage water flowing into Kukkarahalli Lake yet again' in Star of Mysore dated Mar. 3, the UGD Division of Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has taken up the cleaning works of stagnant sewage water at the Lake.

Six MCC staff, using a sucking machine, are removing the stagnant sewage water which would be released into drains in the outskirts of city.

Meanwhile, University of Mysore (UoM) Assistant Executive Engineer Shivalingaprasad said that after the stagnant sewage water is removed, slush would also be removed using an earth-moving machine and added that a temporary solution would be made so that the water flowing into the Lake would get diluted.

He also said that a proposal for a permanent solution at a cost of about Rs.2 crore has been submitted to the District Administration and the works would be taken up after the proposal is approved.

Non-official Member of Karnataka Lake Protection and Development Authority Dr. Jayaramaiah, MCC Junior Engineer (UGD) Jagadish and others were present.

Mayor launches online system

The LBPAS software will cover all building plan approvals, layout approval and change in land use. The software has been designed such a way that once the particular building plan is uploaded, it is routed internally to various Departments or para-statal agencies. The system will notify the applicants on the date when the plan will be approved and if need be, the engineers will visit the spot. Even the required fees can be paid online.

Heritage Zone rules

The physical or manual system will be applicable only to those buildings that come under Heritage Zone. For such buildings, the approval has to come from the Heritage Committee. If a building comes under the Heritage Zone, approval will be accorded after the inspection by the Heritage Committee and as such, the approvals will take time and approvals cannot be granted within 30 days.

For religious structures on vacant sites and buildings that will house educational institutions, approval from the MCC Council is mandatory and as such, applications must be manual. Here too, more time is required for approvals.

All aspects digitised

A building plan that does not comply with Zonal regulations or Master Plans will be rejected automatically by the software. The advantage with the system is that citizens will no longer have to apply for other permits or approvals separately.

Manual applications for No-Objection Certificates (NOC) will not be required and every aspect will be digitised.

Officials said that all building plan approvals will be digitally-signed. Citizens will be required to pay the fees online with e-signature.

Deputy Mayor C. Sridhar, MCC Commissioner Gurudatta Hegde, Chairman of MCC Works Committee Syed Hasrathulla, Additional Commissioners Shivananda Murthy and N.M. Shashikumar, Joint Director of Town Planning Jayasimha and other officials were present.

Rashtriya Poshan Abhiyaan: Training held for Anganwadi workers

Mysuru, Mar. 4 (PM&SD)- Child Development Project, Mysuru, under the aegis of Women and Child Welfare Department, Mysuru, as part of Central Government's 'Rashtriya Poshan Abhiyaan' (National Nutrition Mission), organised a one-day training programme for Anganwadi workers at Bal Bhavan, Bannimantap in city this morning, in which Anganwadi workers working in the city and at different taluk levels across the district took part.

Speaking after inaugurating, DCP (Law and Order) Dr. A.N. Prakash Gowda lauded the Anganwadi workers for their efforts in fighting malnutrition.

"Anganwadi workers play a crucial role in the growth and development of both the mother and child. But these workers, unfortunately, are facing some issues and fighting for their demands because of some flaws in the system. I hope the administration would look into these issues and come up with an amicable solution in the very near future. I would advise you people not to lose patience," the DCP said, addressing the Anganwadi workers.

Women and Child Welfare Department Deputy Director K. Padma, who presided over the event, also addressed the Anganwadi workers and briefly highlighted about 21 key points of the programme.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Mysuru City Child Development Supervisor Bhagyashree said, "National Nutrition Mission is Government of India's flagship programme to improve nutritional outcomes for children, pregnant women and lactating mothers. During this one-day programme, we will be training Anganwadi workers on various issues faced by women, in particular lactating mothers, malnutrition and ways to address this issue in a mission-mode. According to a report, 33% of mothers and children are suffering from malnutrition in the State. Our aim is to reduce this number in the coming years. We are conducting training programmes for Anganwadi and other health workers at least two days in a month."

Mysuru Taluk Health Officer Dr. Mahadev Prasad was the chief guest. Child Development Project Officer Shivalingappa and others were present.

CM to present Budget tomorrow

Bengaluru, Mar. 4- Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa, who holds the Finance portfolio, will present the State Budget on March 5 (tomorrow).

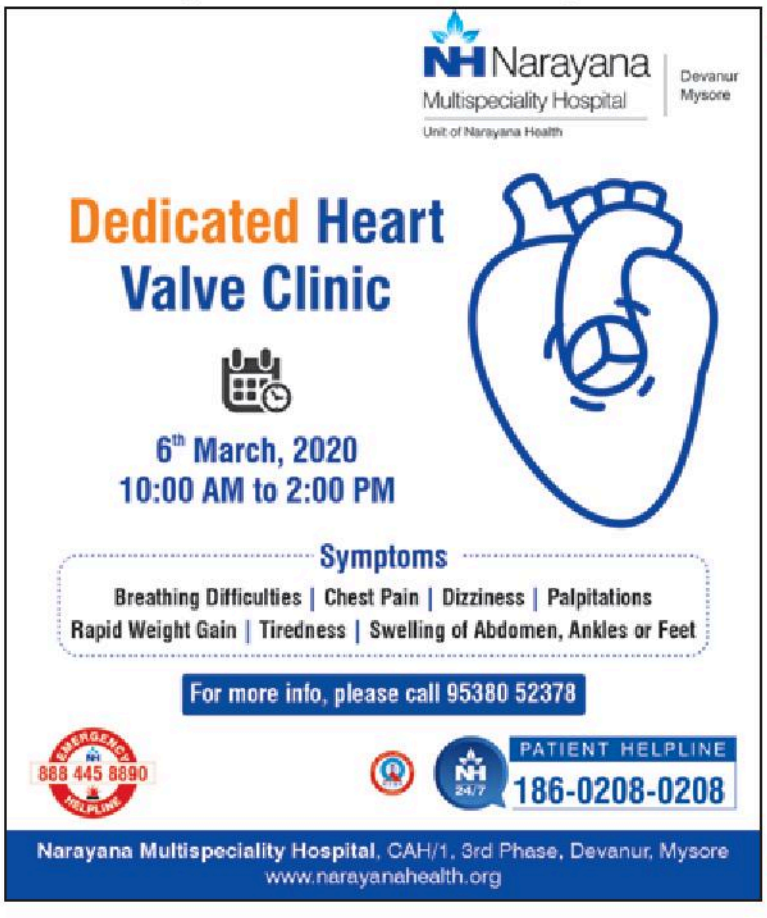
The CM is expected to give top priority to irrigation, agriculture and welfare schemes when he presents his seventh Budget across four terms.

The irrigation sector is expected to land the lion's share with an allocation of at least Rs. 25,000 crore, followed by the agriculture sector. Yediyurappa is also expected to spell out populist schemes for the poor.

Meanwhile, the Congress party has withdrawn its protest in the Assembly against BJP MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal's statement against freedom fighter H.S. Doreswamy. The Congresss party said it will cooperate in the Budget Session tomorrow.

'Ananda Samaja Bhushana' awardee

City's renowned artist Ganjifa Raghupathi Bhat was conferred with 'Ananda Samaja Bhushana' award by Ananda Balaga, Bengaluru, during its 32nd anniversary celebrations recently. He is seen with Yoga Guru P.C. Mukundarao and Balaga office-bearers.



City Colleges host IT, Management Fests

Mysuru, Mar. 4- The IT and Management Fest of Seshadripuram Degree College — 'Samrudhi' and 'Techshedz' 2020 — was held at the College premises in Hebbal here recently.

The Fest was officially inauguration by N. Archana Swamy, Principal, Seshadripuram Independent PU College (SIPUC) and Prof. K. Sowmya Erappa, Principal, Seshadripuram Degree College (SDC).

Students from various Degree Colleges across Mysuru district participated in the Fest.

The student volunteers led the participants to different venues where various events were organised.

There were a number of fascinating events both in IT and Management including De La Finance, Marketing, Best Manager, Foodism, Short Film, Coding, Web Designing, Assembling, Treasure Hunt and Quiz.

Mini Cricket was the most attractive event which garnered diverse teams from across streams. Prizes were distributed during the valedictory held in the evening.

MICA College emerged Overall Champions of the Management events and St. Joseph's First Grade College emerged Overall Champions of the IT events.

The winners of all the events were given certificates, trophies and cash prizes.

All the participants of the Fest were distributed with participation certificates.

IPL Prize Money reduced to half as BCCI seeks 'Cost Cutting'

New Delhi, Mar. 4- The Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) has decided to implement strict cost cutting measures with the notable decision being IPL 2020 champions' prize money will be halved as compared to 2019.

In a circular sent to all IPL franchises, the BCCI has notified that instead of a whopping Rs.20 crore, the IPL champion team will now receive Rs.10 crore only. "The financial rewards have been reworked as a part of the cost cutting measures. The champions will get Rs.10 crore instead of Rs.20 crore. The runners-up will get Rs.6.25 crore from earlier Rs.12.5 crore," a BCCI notification read.

The two losing qualifiers will now get Rs. 4.375 crore each.

'The franchises are all in good health. They also have multiple ways like sponsorships to bolster their income. Hence the decision on prize money taken," a senior BCCI source said.

However, a State Association hosting IPL games will get Rs.1 crore each with franchises and BCCI contributing Rs.50 lakh each. It has also been learnt that mid-level BCCI employees won't be allowed to avail business class flights like earlier times for flying to the Asian countries (Sri Lanka, Bangladesh, UAE) where the flying time is less than eight hours.

Electric meter box posing danger on Ramana Maharshi Road

An electric meter box installed on the ground and left uncovered, is posing danger to everyone especially to the devotees visiting the Temple on Ramana Maharshi Road 6th Cross-Anikethana Road junction in Kuvempunagar. The electric meter box is installed in such a way that even during low intensity rain, rain water enters the box which may result in short circuit and there are even chances of people getting electrocuted. Authorities concerned are urged to take steps to either shift the box or disconnect the power connection for the safety of all.

Dry leaves being set on fire at Ramakrishnanagar

Miscreants are setting fire to piles of dry leaves and plastic at Ramakrishnanagar 'I' Block which is resulting in thick black smoke engulfing the entire area and polluting the environment besides causing difficulty in breathing for the residents nearby. Authorities concerned are urged to take steps to clear these piles regularly and avoid such happenings.

Stop dumping waste at vacant sites

Site No. 15 in SBM Layout, Srirampura 2nd Stage, 3rd Block, has become a dumping yard. Some of the residents are dumping waste at this vacant site without any hesitation or fear of MCC authorities or even the slightest concern for public health. Due to this there is a possibility for snakes to have taken shelter amidst the garbage and in turn, has turned into a breeding place for mosquitoes. The authorities concerned are requested to do the needful and get the site cleaned at the earliest.

WORD OF THE DAY

Tastevin

Meaning: A Tastevin is a relatively small, shallow silver cup or saucer, with a thumb-handle - which was traditionally (and for some still) used by winemakers and négociants when judging the maturity, quality, clarity and the taste of a wine.
Origin: The word 'Tastevin' originates from French, literally meaning wine taster, from Middle French, from taster to touch, taste (from Old French) + vin wine, from Latin vinum.
Example: Membership in this exclusive group was symbolized by the gift of a 'tastevin.'

THE ODD WORD

Talliate

To impose a tax.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

T-minus

Meaning: The term 'T-minus' is generally used during countdowns to space launches.
Origin: During a rocket launch, 'T-minus' translates to 'Time minus'; the 'T' stands for the exact time at which the rocket is scheduled to be launched. It's essentially a countdown, that is, a sequence of reverse counting that signifies the 'time remaining' before the exact moment when a scheduled event will occur. In a rocket launch, 'T-minus' translates to 'Time minus'; the 'T' stands for the exact time at which the rocket is scheduled to be launched. In more technical terms, the 'T' in 'T-minus' is a designator for the main sequence countdown time that serves as the synchronization device for most of the equipment and procedures that must be completed before, during and after the launch.
Example: T minus 35 minutes and counting.

National AWSAR Prize for CSIR-CFTRI Researcher

Young woman researcher of CSIR-CFTRI, Mysuru, M.L. Bhavya receiving the National AWSAR Prize from Minister of Science and Technology, Dr. Harshvardhan. Also seen are (from left)* Dr. Shekar C. Mande, Director General, Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR), Dr. Ashuthosh Sharma, Secretary, Department of Science and Technology (DST), Government of India (GoI) and Dr. Renu Swarup, Secretary, Department of Biotechnology (DBT), GoI.

Mysuru, Mar. 4- M.L. Bhavya, a Ph.D Scholar in the Mysuru-based Council of Scientific and Industrial Research - Central Food Technological Research Institute (CSIR-CFTRI), has bagged the third prize in the AWSAR competition held by the Ministry of Science and Technology, New Delhi.

'Augmenting Writing Skills for Articulating Research (AWSAR)' is being held from the past two years and is a national level competition to promote science writing among researchers across the country. Researchers have to submit an essay in simple and easily understable English about their research. The best 100 essays will be given a prize of Rs.10,000 and the top three essays will be given an award too.

'Lights-Sound-Action,' an essay by M.L. Bhavya, has been adjudged the third best essay and carries a cash prize of Rs. 25,000.

Bhavya received the prize from Dr. Harshvardhan, Minister of Science & Technology, Earth Sciences and Health and Family Welfare, on Feb.28 at the National Science Day function held in New Delhi.

Besides, three more young women researchers of CFTRI have been placed among the first hundred and the Institute is the third among the institutions that have received more than two prizes in the country, according to a press release from A.S.K.V.S. Sharma, Coordinator, Information & Publicity, CFTRI.
